FCC:

It is greatly disturbing that K-LOVE would be unconditionally affected by your possible decision to allow LPFM to overcome the FM translator stations.

K-LOVE has been a constant source of reassurance, comfort, and positive values in my life. When I'm driving in maddening rush hour traffic, I can hear the love of God over the airwaves and my spirit is calm. Imagine, if you will, a city where everyone is deeming themselves more important than everyone else. Where would we be without some source of joy on the airwaves? With K-LOVE on the radio, we are reminded that God is watching us, that we are not alone, that we have a greater purpose, and that God wants us to love others just as we love ourselves. Now while we're still working on this, K-LOVE is a constant reminder. What a shame to lose that!

In Denver, we have an amazing signal at 91.1 FM. In the smaller mountain towns that I frequent for business, I can still rely on K-LOVE's presence. It's these smaller towns that need the radio signals just as much as the big cities; they would suffer immensely if you go through with your decision to cut off their translators.

Sincerely,

Rebecca Axtman
